Council Approves $144,092 Bills, Salary Claims

Claims and salaries totaling $144,092—including a $71,537 payment on construction of the new sewage treatment plant—were approved by the city council Monday night.

Claims payments, totaling $102,686 were approved after separation of one bill amounting to $207 for cutting 12 acres of weeds at the sewage plant. The claim, filed by Clarence Whitford, was challenged by Alderman Bartosik, who said he thought an inspection of the work should be made to see if it was satisfactory.

Alderman Moerlein said the work had been ordered done because the city has no money to handle the job itself and that the job had to be done. He remarked that he was "not too satisfied" with the job.

Salary payments for the first half of October were approved in a total amount of $41,406. The amount did not include retroactive payments in salary increases approved several weeks ago for members of the police, fire and street departments.

Largest on List
Claim for construction work on the sewage treatment plant was $79,485, but the council retained $7984 of the amount until all work can be checked out, approving the $37 payment for immediate payment. This account was the largest single bill on Monday night's claim list.

Payment of $10,157 to Midwest Blacktop Roads, Inc., for one-half inch rock used in street work was approved as were three other bills of $2503 for rock, $1023 for 10,980 gallons of asphalt, and $1773 for 10,133 gallons of asphalt.

Also among the larger claims approved by the council were payments of $4678 to Tom Skerle for new sidewalks on the north and south sides of Rhodes street, and $2117 to Sheppard, Morgan & Schaub engineering firm for services at the sewage treatment plant. Approved claims also included $2501 to the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development as a second payment for updating the city's master development plan. Other claims were of routine nature.

Jr. College District Petitions Circulated

Petitions to form a junior college district in the area were being circulated this week, Wilbur R. L. Trimpe, Madison county superintendent of schools, announced at Edwardsville.

Members of the junior college steering committee are obtaining signatures in an area which includes all of Madison and Jersey counties, most of Calhoun county, the southern half of Macoupin county, and small parts of Greene, Bond, St. Clair and Montgomery counties.

The petitions are to be filed with the state junior college board by Oct. 10 to meet state deadlines. Trimpe said 500 signatures which are required can be obtained by that date, and others can be added until Oct. 14. Registered voters may sign the petitions.

Time Running Out for GI Loans for Veterans

World war two veterans have less than a year to take advantage of GI guaranteed or insured loans, John B. Naser, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Chicago, announced today.

Next July 25 is the deadline. Eligibility is determined by a formula which adds 10 years to the date of their last discharge plus one year for each 90 days of wartime service. Eligibility for many has already expired.

Veterans who were discharged for a service-connected disability and the widows of such veterans will be eligible up to July 25.

The formula for veterans of the Korean war is the same, with the final deadline being Jan. 31, 1975.

Venice Schools Sell Bus to Lions; Ok Pay Scales

Venice school board members Monday night authorized transfer of the district's sole remaining school bus to the Venice Lions club for a fee of $1.

The board also confirmed earlier hiring action involving several new teachers, and hired a replacement for a custodian who retired.

In donating the 1956 school bus to the men's service organization, board members stipulated its use for transporting Venice Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Lions club, to various activities in connection with the scouting program.

Salaries of several recently hired faculty members were approved, including Mrs. Sharon Gregg, a remedial reading teacher, who will conduct special classes under the Venice school district's expanded English program.

Also approved were Mrs. June Jones, a sixth grade teacher with 16 years of experience, and Mrs. Norma Schroeder, a former physical education teacher in the Romana and Granite City school systems, who is assigned to a seventh-grade class.

Changes in faculty assignments announced included Mrs. Johnnie Morris from home economics and kindergarten teacher to 7th and 8th grade home economics, and Mrs. Mary Parker from sixth grade to kindergarten.

Federal Financing
Supt. John O. Pier reported that salaries of Mrs. Linda Knapp, hired earlier this year to teach art education, and Mrs. Gwendolyn Dake, school librarian, will be paid from federal Title I and Title II funds.

Robert Davinroy was hired as a school custodian, replacing John Scannell, who retired. Retirement of Mrs. Ivy Harris, a head cook at Lincoln school, also was announced, with the board naming Miss Myrtle Parker to the head cook position and Mrs. Edna Houltz to replace Miss Parker as cook.

Supt. Pier reported that Venice schools' $62,000 application for Title I funds is nearing completion, with filing expected within two weeks. He added that state school authorities have indicated the amount to be sought under Title I funding will be approved.

The board granted permission to St. Mark's parochial school for use of the high school gymnasium three evenings each week for basketball practice, and voted to allow board members to attend the annual convention of the Illinois Association of School Boards Nov. 19, 20 and 21 at the Sherman House, Chicago.

Junior College Study
Board President Michael E. Leatherman presented a resume of a feasibility study conducted by Southern Illinois University's proposed establishment of a junior college district. He reported that at a recent meeting in Edwardsville, educators and others had approved filing a petition for a junior college district with state authorities.

Leatherman said possible sites for three attendance centers proposed in the study include one in the Quad-Cities, a second near Alton and the third in the Highland-Collinsville area. If approval is given the plan by the Illinois Junior College Board, a referendum on the issue could possibly be held next March or April, he said, possibly enabling the three centers to be placed in operation by September, 1967.

Bills approved for payment totaled $22,751 from the education fund; $3443, lunch bills; $2502, building fund; $165, transportation; and $1092, retirement fund.

Gymnastics and Twirling Programs Start Next Week

Noting that the gymnastic and twirling programs have increased in popularity each of the three years it has been offered by the Granite City park district, Harold Brown, park superintendent, said today the program will be sponsored this year at three different locations, instead of the single center previously used.

Starting next week, the gymnastic and twirling program will include two beginner's classes, plus an intermediate and advance course. Classes are open to all grade and high school students, who are park district residents. A non-resident fee of $3 will be charged for the 18-week program.

Intermediate classes will be conducted each Monday and Thursday from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., while advance sessions will be given from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. the same evenings. Both groups will meet at the park district community center, 822 Niedringhaus avenue.

Beginner classes will be held from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday at Niedringhaus school, and from 4 to 5 p.m. each Thursday at Frohardt school. Both locations are new to this year's program. Boy and girl beginner sessions wishing to participate are to attend the classes nearest their homes.

Pete Robinson will again direct this season's program, assisted by Bruce Thompson and Miss Charlene Graham.

Continuing a policy intended to provide diversified activities appealing to youngsters of all ages, the park district also will sponsor free baton twirling lessons for the second year, Brown announced.

Starting Monday, first through sixth grade girls may receive free baton lessons at the park district community center. Participants must be new to twirling, and qualify as beginner pupils.

Classes will be limited to 25 students each with one session held Monday afternoons and a second class on Wednesdays. Girls may wear shorts or slimsuits for the sessions, instructed from 4 to 5 p.m. Instructors will be provided by the Marilyn Champion School of Baton, the park official said.

Flat Pay Hike Bill for City Hall Workers to be Prepared

The city council's prolonged battle over salary raises for city hall employees went into another round Monday night, resulting in tentative approval of flat raises of $4 and $11 per month for 23 employees divided into two categories.

With three members of the 16-man council absent, aldermen voted 8-5 to bring an ordinance providing raises of the fixed amounts rather than a 4% increase urged by the council's Personnel Committee.

Alderman Thompson, chairman of the Personnel Committee which has tried repeatedly since late August to obtain approval of a percentage salary raise in all municipal departments, attempted to revive the 4% percentage figure, but without success.

The issue was revived Monday night by Alderman Boyd as unfinished business, after Thompson said his committee had no report. The salary issue has been reaching the council floor as personnel committee business.

Boyd moved that an ordinance providing a flat pay boost of $24 for ten employees and a raise of $11 per month for 13 others be drawn for council action. This was a $1 change in the rates suggested a week ago in an unsuccessful attempt by Alderman Robertson to secure a similar ordinance. The original proposal on flat pay boosts were $25 and $10.

Alderman Fry, a member of the Personnel Committee protested, "This is the same vote you tried a week ago. You've only changed the figures by $1, and I can't see how you can maintain a sufficient spread in job evaluations with such a raise."

Thompson went to a blackboard in a corner of the council chambers and cited a sample salary figure tending to show that over a period of years a flat pay increase would close the gap between various job categories.

The motion to bring in an ordinance, which may result in another fight on the issue when it is presented, was opposed by Alderman Rutledge, Sternberg, Fry, Whitmer and Thompson.

Sever Fee Collections
Council members also debated at length another vote involving collection of sewer rental fees, ending with a motion to bring in an ordinance that will establish responsibility with the treasurer's office, rather than by the comptroller's office.

The change first came up three weeks ago, when several aldermen demanded all such fees be collected by the treasurer's office, according to a non-resident ordinance. Definite action was delayed two weeks ago when Alderman Rutledge suggested the mayor if he had changed the ruling find out from its bond firm whether a switch of collections from the comptroller to the treasurer would meet with its approval.

A letter from John Nuveen & Co. bonding firm which stated that collections by the treasurer would meet its approval, was read at the beginning of Monday's meeting. A letter from the office of the city treasurer and city clerk, suggesting that collections for the sewage treatment rental system be switched to the treasurer and clerk, touched off the new debate.

Mayor Partney said he didn't care which office collected the fees, but said all such collections, including rental fees of the old Nameoki Sewer area, should be coordinated in the same of figure. During the past few years all such collections have been made by the comptroller's office.

Clerks Would be Transferred
Alderman Sam Whitmer said he wanted to know if the switch in the sewerage system would result in demands for more help in the treasurer's office. E. R. "Pat" Rich, city treasurer, replied that the same clerks now handling the collections would be used.

Alderman Rutledge said he was under the impression that most ordinances placed responsibility for collection with the comptroller, but City Atty. Richard Allen explained the only ordinance fixing such responsibility is the one covering the sewage treatment plant.

"I don't see why we need another ordinance," Alderman Johnson said, "why don't we just go along with the ones we have?"

Why the Change?
Alderman Fry told the council, "I have been paying this bill (in the Nameoki sewer area) for 10 or 15 years and the money has just been getting to the right place. Why all this sudden change about who is going to collect the money?"

Proponents of the change contend the existing ordinance calls for the treasurer to make the rental collection, but that the full responsibility was assumed by the former comptroller.

The council voted 5-3 to concur in the request of the city treasurer and city clerk, but the mayor held that the motion lost because it needed nine votes. The absence of three council members—Green because of illness, Nonn because he was working, and Baschick who is on vacation—reduced the total vote to 13.

Alderman Boyd took issue on the decision and appealed to Allen for a ruling. Allen replied that any issue not requiring an appropriation or the expenditure of money required only a simple majority vote.

Several aldermen asked the mayor if he had changed the ruling. There was answer. The council approved ordinances establishing one-hour parking from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily on a city street for a distance 15 feet south of East 23rd street and placing stop signs on Edwards street at Henry street.

An ordinance amending the city zoning ordinance to rezone lots 18 and 19, block 7, of Commercial Heights, from an R-3 multiple family zone to an R-8 multiple family zone, was approved on recommendation of the Planning and Zoning committee. No protest to the change was filed.

Zone Change Sought
A letter asking for rezoning of the property at 2419 Lincoln avenue from its present R-3 single family zoning to C-1 commercial zoning, was received by the council and referred to the City Plan Commission.

The request was made by Alex P. and Eleanor Allen to permit operation of a beauty parlor at that address. A hearing has been set for 1:15 p.m. Nov. 10 in the city hall.

The council was notified of intention by Vernice Donaldson, 549 Locust street, Mitchell, to file suit against the city, for injuries sustained last March 30 on a sidewalk fall on the east side of East 23rd street near 18th street. No amount of damages was specified.

A manual of rules and regulations for the Granite City police department was presented to the council by Alderman Whitmer, who said a limited number of copies was available, but that he wanted council members to read the proposed rules within the next two weeks.

"When I bring this up in two weeks I don't want anyone telling me he doesn't know anything about it," Whitmer said. "I want to get action on the new rules at that time," he added.

Venice-Madison Demo Leaders Deny Wage 'Lug'

Reports that a mandatory "lug" of 2% is collected regularly from certain employees at the Alton State Hospital to bolster the campaign fund of the Venice-Madison Democratic organization were denied today by Walter T. "Buck" Simmons, chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, and James Chapman, Madison county recorder of deeds and secretary-treasurer of the Democratic committee.

Both admitted, however, that "voluntary contributions" were received from many of the hospital employees who are not under civil service regulations.

"That's always been a common practice, with the Republicans as well as us," Chapman commented. He said he did not know how much money is received monthly from hospital employees as well as those who pay into the fund.

The Alton newspaper quoted a hospital informant yesterday as saying that the 2% of employees' salaries is paid to a hospital employee who turns over to Chapman as the party collector.

Simmons denied particularly a charge that the Madison County Board of Health is being made to finance an all-election campaign in behalf of John Maers, brother of Madison Mayor Stephen Maers, a Democratic candidate for county treasurer.

Benefits All Candidates

"Money we collect as contributions is used in behalf of all candidates on the Democratic ticket," Simmons said. He explained that 2% is a basic figure for contributions by county and state employees, with half of the money going to the state Democratic organization and the other 1% retained locally for campaign purposes.

Simmons said that some of the employees pay into the political fund and that others do not.

"Sure I send some employees up there (to the hospital), such as steamfitters, carpenters, plumbers and laborers," Simmons said.

Pete Fuchs, Republican opponent to Maers, is quoted as saying the Democratic organization's drive for funds has been intensified throughout the county recently in preparation for Maers' campaign.

He said the Venice-Madison organization press in excess of $20,000 in an effort to nominate Maers in the June primary and is preparing to go even higher in the Nov. 8 general election.

Maers was defeated by Stephen Kennedy of Alton, who died a few weeks after the primary. Maers was appointed the Democratic treasurer candidate by the county committee.

It showed $22,374 on deposit and $70,000 under contract, which received dividends of $325 last year. It listed two retired police department members, five widows, and 13 active members on the rolls.

Awarded a contract to the W. L. Waggoner Trucking Co. to lease a city-owned house at 1573 Third street for a low bid of $575. The property is to be cleared. Other bidders were General Contracting Co., $1290, and A. H. Seebold Truck & Excavating Co., $1679.

Approved a resolution seeking $8000 more motor fuel tax funds to complete payment on McCambridge avenue improvement. And appointed John Spurlock as a special policeman - watchman without pay to succeed Ernest Long, who has retired.

Seaman Richard Dunlap Hospitalized in Hawaii

Seaman Richard Dunlap, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dunlap, 304 Bend road, is a patient at Tripler Hospital, Honolulu, Hawaii, where he was taken earlier this week after sustaining three fractured fingers on his right hand. He is expected to remain there for six weeks.

His parents, who received a letter yesterday written by an American Red Cross worker advising them of the accident, also were surprised by a phone call from their son last night.

The local youth was transferred from the military hospital to a naval hospital in the Philippines when he developed blood clots in both legs this spring. He had returned to duty late in August with the Inactive Service Craft Facilities at Pearl Harbor. He had served for eight months in Vietnam prior to his illness.

In his call, Dunlap said he had sustained the injuries when his hand became enmeshed in the gears of a YSD crane he was operating. While home on convalescent leave this summer, he was hospitalized at the Great Lakes Naval Center for several weeks. Dunlap enlisted in the Navy 26 months ago.

St. Louis Auto Plant Strike May Hurt A. O. Smith

Officials at A. O. Smith Corp. auto frame manufacturing plant here will endeavor to determine tomorrow if the three-day-old strike at the Chevrolet plant in St. Louis will curtail the local production of auto frames.

The local plant currently has a production work force of 1450 operating two frame lines on the first shift and one on the second shift. Frames are shipped to other Chevrolet plants as well as to the St. Louis plant.

A. O. Smith announced last Friday the layoffs of about 300 production workers due to a reduction of orders for regular Chevrolet in anticipation of a sales drop predicted by the manufacturer.

The strike at the St. Louis Chevrolet plant started Tuesday, and no agreement was reached in negotiations yesterday. About 4000 United Auto Workers at the plant are striking over production schedules.

A spokesman for A. O. Smith said the local frame plant will continue operation this week, and that a decision on whether production will be made either tomorrow or over the weekend.

Dupo's Fate Continues As Tigers Prepare to Invade Madison Friday

It would seem that things have to brighten up for Dupo's Tigers, who invade Madison on an 8 p.m. Midwest Conference opener tomorrow. Dupo's luck could hardly grow worse.

Consider it: Dupo has lost 29 of its last 30 games. Last week its star quarterback suffered a severe ankle injury as the team lost its third straight game of this season. On Tuesday, the coach hit his hand badly injured in an accident at school.

So what else can happen?

Hurt in School Shop
The accident to new head football coach Paul Stewart occurred at a machine in the school's metal craft shop when his hand became trapped between moving gears.

He was immediately rushed to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, where it was determined that the injury was too severe to allow for stitches. A Bellevue surgeon was summoned and it was decided that a skin graft would be necessary.

Stewart became head coach this season, having been an assistant to current athletic director, Dr. Brubaker, who resigned following the 1965 season. The Tiger mentor teaches in the school's printing and metal craft shops and was conducting his class when the accident occurred.

The accident befalling 165-pound senior quarterback Joe Lindhorst was in the 25-6 conference opener at Dupo last Friday night. At the time he left the game it was feared his ankle was fractured.

Stewart had been counting on Lindhorst to bolster the team's passing game. The 5'11" signal caller, one of only eight returning lettermen this year, completed seven out of 19 passes in Dupo's losing opener to Western Military Academy.

Small Enrollment
Actually, in the game with highly favored Highland, the Tigers gained 27 net yards, quite an improvement over the 19 rolled up against WMA.

Still, the loss was just further evidence of the school being out-matched in a conference it trails in enrollment figures.

Now only hovering around the 500 student mark, Dupo has the lowest pupil population among area schools now competing in football.

By enrollment comparison, Dupo should stand a good chance against Highland, which also shows an enrollment of about 500. But the Tigers' lone win in the last 30 games was against Roxana last year to break a 22-game losing skid.

Other Midwest Conference school enrollments are: Cahokia 1200, Bethalto 900, Roxana 780 and Madison 650, according to the 1965-66 Illinois Coaches Directory.

Not only does Dupo face low enrollment but it has had little success in luring boys out for football. When this season started, Stewart could only list 23 players. These consisted of seven juniors, five sophomores and 11 seniors, from a team that was 1-8 last year.

Dupo Coach Optimistic
In an interview during the recent football press meeting in Bellevue, Stewart remarked that 20 players had graduated at Dupo this spring.

And yet, the good-natured five-year veteran of Dupo football foibles has been optimistic about the school's improving chances. This optimism may not be completely unfounded. At least one other Midwest Conference coach doesn't take the Tigers for granted—none other than Madison's Glen Pickering.

12-7 Game Last Year
Well remembering last year's 12-7 squeaker, in which Dupo capitalized on three Madison fumbles and gave the Trojans a hard time of it before bowing, Pickering was serious.

"They blew us off the field," he said, confessing that the Trojan players themselves had considered the game in the bag. "They should have beaten us."

Pickering continued, "And if you remember, they went out and beat Roxana the very next week."

Coming from a coach who has in Ron Burt and Sam Jones two backs who have piled up 517 yards of the opposition turf, Pickering's comments bear out some of Stewart's optimism.

Week to Week
As for Madison's outlook, Pickering said, "We play it week to week. If we go past Dupo then we'll worry about Bethalto, but not until then."

Injuries, Madison is in good shape, according to Pickering, who reports that Joe Podnar's broken right thumb is the only serious Trojan trouble.

While Playing Football
Terry Gargac, 16, of 2347 Rock road, was injured while playing football in Triangle Park, West 21st street and Rock road, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

He fell over another boy and apparently landed on a piece of glass. He suffered a cut lip and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital for observation.

Train Delays Irk Alderman; Stiffer Fines Proposed

Several city council members have been held up recently by halted freight trains or prolonged switching operations at Granite City rail crossings.

In-Service Training On Role of Teachers

The in-service training on "The Teacher's Role in the Classroom" will begin Wednesday, Oct. 12, in the Granite City school system with a talk by Miss Lynn Zenic, state gifted child consultant.

About 24 teachers are to attend the 1 p.m.-3 p.m. sessions every other Wednesday for eight sessions. The program is offered to all teachers, and a similar group is to be formed to take the training in the spring semester. Mrs. Sally Sowell, director of the gifted program, is the coordinator.

Highlights will include curriculum changes, teaching techniques, style of teaching inventory, taping of class sessions, Flinders classroom interaction analysis, analysis of test questions based on Guilford's intellectual classification, a visit to a demonstration center and study of characteristics of gifted children, creative children and gifted under-achievers.

Park's Roller Skating Program Starts Tuesday

A fall and winter indoor roller skating program will begin next Tuesday at the Stopkotte roller rink in the 18th block of Cleveland blvd., under the auspices of the Granite City park district.

For the seventh successive year, the program will be made available free of charge to residents of the park district in grades three through nine. Participants who do not have rink skates may rent them at the roller rink for 25 cents per session. Harold Brown, park superintendent, said today.

No prior registration is required for the skating program to be held from 4 to 5:30 p.m. each Tuesday through next March 1. An average attendance of 15 youngsters per session was recorded last year, the park official said.

Participants will be supervised by qualified personnel, Brown added, with the program directed by Pat Harris, an SIU student.

Mayor Partney suggested council members "do like I do—call the police if the delay is unreasonable," but council members cast one of their rare unanimous votes, calling for an increase in fines against railroads which violate the regulations.

It was for Alderman Farley's motion for preparation of an ordinance to assess a minimum fine of $100 and a maximum of $500, with the fine to depend upon extent of the violation. Present fine for blocking a crossing ten minutes or more with an un-moving train is $10.

Crossings Deplorable
The aldermen then decided something should be done about the bad condition of grade crossings, described as being in deplorable shape. No definite action was taken.

Alderman Poulos touched off the long-wait discussion with a complaint that he was blocked at a grade crossing more than 20 minutes a few days before the council meeting. "It seems like this comes up at every meeting," Poulos said. "It's about time we do something about it."

Moerlen, a railroad man himself, said the railroad crews are not to blame in all cases, although some are.

"You have to remember," he said, "that under the law, when a train stands for nine of its allotted minutes at a crossing, then starts up and stops again, the ten minute count starts all over again. Asked for further comment, Poulos replied, 'Let's just forget it.'"

Moerlen added, "You can't always blame the train crews. Unreasonably long trains are principally the reason for long crossing delays."

Mayor Partney commented: "I think we ought to save our money and buy an overpass." The suggestion was made that a city law imposing more strict fines might conflict with state law, but was given only passing consideration.

Railroad regulations customarily are fixed by Illinois Commerce Commission action.

Mayor Partney to Report Monthly to GC Residents

Mayor Partney announced this week that he plans to present "state of the city" reports to Granite Cityans on the second Monday of each month, starting this month.

In making the announcement, he stated — "One of the many objectives of your mayor has been to keep the public advised of the goals and accomplishments of the city government. This report is only one of the methods used to let the citizens know the progress our city is achieving."

"As you receive this report each month, you, the citizens of Granite City will see more clearly the things that are being accomplished and the progress being made throughout the city."

This report will also give you a summary from the operations of the departments of the city government and their financial condition at the close of business each month.

"This report is dedicated to further improve the contact communications and cooperation between the citizens of Granite City and their municipal government."

Service Yardstick

"To the average citizen, city government is measured in terms of the service he receives."

Krause Named to GC Literature Commission

Gradwell Krause, 3115 Colgate drive, a Granite City Steel Co. employee was appointed to Granite City's Commission to curb obscene literature. Krause was named Monday night by Mayor Partney to succeed Rev. W. J. Richardson, who has moved to Mitchell.

In accepting the resignation of Thomas Boker, chairman of the city's Air Pollution Control Board, the mayor named Dr. E. L. Strotheide, chiropractor, to fill the board vacancy, but later rescinded the appointment and its confirmation since Strotheide lives outside the city limits at 1 William John Court.

Boker, a government employee at Scott Air Force Base, has accepted a computer programming post in Washington, D. C. The board names its own officers.

Council approval also was given the appointment of Mrs. Isabelle Crnkovich to a salaried, $225-a-month clerical job in the comptroller's office where she has been on an hourly pay schedule.

Accepted by the council was the Nov. 1 resignation of Clarence Walters, city boiler inspector.

Stamps Denied Motion For Post-Trial Hearing

A motion for a post trial hearing for John Stamps, Granite City, facing death for murder in the Menard prison riot, was denied Monday afternoon by Chief Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr at Edwardsville.

The hearing was sought for a conviction in a previous murder case in Madison. His attorney, L. J. Struff, claimed that the victim Stamps had shot in Madison died in the hospital as a result of insufficient hospital care, rather than from the wound.

While in prison for a 24-year term, Stamps was connected with the Menard riot last fall and was charged with stabbing several guards. His attorney claimed that he should not have been in prison at the time, but he was convicted and sentenced to be electrocuted. He has filed for a new trial in that case.

Car Hits Bridge Railing

An auto driven by Mrs. Martha Franklin of St. Louis struck bridge railing on the north side of the west end of McKinley bridge Monday afternoon, Venice police reported.

If rubbish is collected regularly without being strewn in the streets, sidewalks, curbs are kept in repair; and the police and fire departments are efficient, then city hall is doing its job.

"Supervising and coordinating the operations of the public service departments, plus various other internal government departments in such a way as to receive the highest degree of uniform efficiency falls under the administrative responsibility of the mayor's office."

"The office of the mayor is the central point of all activities of the city government of Granite City. Being the chief administrator of the government, the mayor's office is charged with the responsibility of initiating administrative policy, recommending and enforcing legislative policy and coordinating all the activities of the various city departments and divisions."

"Being ever mindful of the needs of the citizens of the city of Granite City, the mayor's office is always open to any citizen who has a request, a suggestion or complaint regarding the city government and its operation."

"In line with this open-door policy, the mayor's office receives numerous visitors and many requests each day, which are followed up by investigations, either by myself, personally, or by the appropriate city department, and a report is made to the citizen who initiated the request."

"The mayor is employed by the people of our city as their chief administrator. I am at your service and anxious to hear if they relate to the operation of our government."

"Each month, hereafter, on the second Monday, I will release a progress report to the news media."

"I also welcome all citizens to attend our council meetings on the first, third and fourth Mondays of each month to see your government in action."

Venice Park District Moves to Sell Bonds

Sale of $224,000 worth of Venice park district bonds to local area banks—if such a sale can be arranged—was authorized by the park district board.

Harry Hartman, park board attorney, explained the decision was reached after bond experts informed park officials that they might find it difficult to sell the bonds to bond firms on the present tight-money market and remain within the statutory limit of 5% interest.

"Our plan is to check first with banks in this area to determine if they are interested in taking up the bonds before initiating any move to advertise for bids," Hartman said.

The bonds are to be sold to finance construction of the proposed new park district office building and community center on Broadway, adjoining Lee Park.

The park board also discussed potential federal grants to share part of the cost of the land for the office building. Hartman pointed out that possible sources include the Federal open space program and land beautification project, under the Home and Urban Development agency. No federal funds are available to aid in construction, Hartman said.

cicki and the retiring president, Marvin Barnes reported on the success of the club's annual peanut sale to aid youth projects, held last weekend, which resulted in a complete sell-out of 1500 bags of peanuts. Eighteen members attended the dinner session. Next week, the club will observe Kiwanis International "Newspaper Appreciation Week."

BATHROOMS NOT BEST FOR KEEPING MEDICINES

Modern medicines are potent. It is important that they be protected against deterioration. Whenever you take a hot shower or bath, the temperature is raised to a degree that may affect stability. We place medicines in a constantly normal, locked cabinet out of reach of children.

Read the label of every medicine. Some should be refrigerated. Most of them are best kept in a cool dry place. None should be placed near heat.

We invite your inspection of our prescription laboratory. You can see thousands of medicines stored for maximum potency and immediate availability. We welcome prescriptions requiring intricate compounding.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

Peace Corps Placement tests will be conducted at 9 a.m. Saturday in Room 414 of the Federal building in East St. Louis, 750 Missouri avenue.

Applicants, which require about an hour and a half to complete, are available to any area resident. Placement tests grade general knowledge and ability—not achievement or education. Applicants can neither pass nor fail.

'67 Chryslers on Display Today at Maddox Motors

Heading the new Chrysler cars for 1967 is the Chrysler New Yorker, which along with other models is on display starting today at Maddox Motors Inc. 4100 Nameki road.

"The New Yorker, along with the other Chryslers, has been restyled, and many new features have been added," Fred San Soucie, vice-president of Maddox Motors, said.

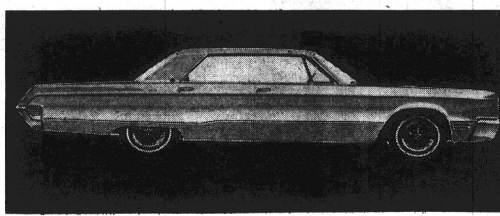

"Wrap-around lights in front and back, a front seat that reclines, a standard 440 cubic inch V-8 engine and a carpeted trunk are a few of the things on the X-67 New Yorker," San Soucie told.

The 300 model has a standard 440 cubic inch V-8 engine or a power option available, and it has a suspension system based in principle on those used in cars that race at "Indianapolis," the vice-president said.

Standard items on the 300 are, a trip odometer, ignition switch lights, dual brakes, three-speed windshield wipers, brake system warning lights, safety toggle switches and thumb wheels on the instrument panel, heater and defroster with four blower speeds and others.

Optional equipment for the 300 includes disc brakes, 15-inch wheels, leather interior, cornering lights, four-speed manual.

GI Mailing Dates, Packaging Hints Outlined

Response continues to accelerate in "Yule Mail Call," a community-wide pre-Christmas service sponsored by the Press-Record through which the names and addresses of Quad-City servicemen and women are being published in each issue. The second list appears with this article.

A directive from the Department of Defense, released this week by the Granite City Army Depot information office, advises families and friends of all Armed Forces personnel stationed in overseas areas to mail their Christmas gifts early to facilitate their arrival prior to the holiday.

If they intend to use regular postage rates, senders should mail their packages, letters and greeting cards between Oct. 21 and Nov. 10.

Defense Department officials also advise that parcels addressed to servicemen in Vietnam that weigh no more than five pounds and measure 60 inches in length and girth combined, may be mailed at the ordinary postage rate and be transported by air on a "space-available" basis.

No Guarantee
Persons mailing packages to servicemen in Vietnam at ordinary postage rates should adhere to the Oct. 21-Nov. 10 deadline and are cautioned that no guarantee is given on air transportation being provided should available space be filled.

It is requested that parcels and cards to that area be mailed as quickly as possible to avoid the bulk of the pre-Christmas mail delays. The directive also states that at the present time, no plans have been made for a special Department of Defense air-lift of bulk collections of Christmas gifts for servicemen in Vietnam this year.

If the sender intends to pay air mail postage on packages destined for overseas, the gifts must be mailed no later than the first week in December. Armed Forces officials advise that local families and friends are reminded that the December deadline applies to only those items sent via airmail postage.

The Post Office Department and the military postal service do their utmost to insure delivery to destination in time, but the holiday season adds thousands of extra packages into the mail system. Despite the best efforts of the two agencies, many parcels do not reach their destination because they are wrapped poorly or incorrectly, or illegibly addressed.

Mailing Data
To prevent this postal officials advise:

Be sure to wrap all packages securely.

Address packages correctly and legibly, using the appropriate five-digit APO or FPO number as part of the address.

Place a duplicate label which plainly shows both the addressee's address and the return address of the sender inside the package.

Mail intended for an unspecified addressee will not be accepted. Mail for servicemen must be addressed to a named individual or to a specific military unit. The Department of Defense requests that mail not be sent to the Pentagon for Armed personnel serving overseas.

Wrapping Suggestions
Post office authorities also offer the following suggestions in wrapping parcels for overseas: Gifts should be securely packed in cartons of wood, metal or double-faced corrugated fiber board.

Fragile items should be surrounded by cushioning materials.

Yule Mail Call (Clip and Save)

Quad-City servicemen and women stationed around the world, whose names and addresses are being published in each issue of the Press-Record as a special pre-Christmas public service. It is suggested that readers clip-out and retain the lists as they appear.

Local residents are invited to include the servicemen on their Christmas mailing list and send greeting cards, letters or packages, thereby helping to brighten the coming holiday season for military personnel who are a way from their homes and families. Early mailing is recommended.

Sternberg pointed out that the city would have to approve a bond issue of $1,900,000 to supplement the present federal grant of $1,500,000 to carry out the first program.

The second alternative—the $14 million project—would, in substance, revive the five-year old Granite City sewer program in which a $10 million dollar bond sale proposal was defeated in 1961. It had been trimmed from an original $15,000,000 figure.

50-50 Program
Assuming that future grants made available for sewer work would be on a 50-50 basis, Sternberg said, "Granite City would need approval of a bond issue of around $8 million to underwrite its share of the overall program."

He said authorization of the $8 million in bonds could be obtained in one election, but the bonds sold only as needed to provide the city's share of projects for which federal funds are made available.

Sternberg said he personally favors the $14 million project rather than a multiple-phase program in which it would be necessary to make repeated requests for bond issues to provide matching funds for each separate phase of construction work.

Should the city obtain voter approval of the $8 million bond issue, the first $1,900,000 of the bonds would be sold to pay the local share of the $3,400,000 stormwater and sanitary sewer program, Sternberg said. This program could proceed immediately while plans were developed for subsequent improvement.

He pointed out that construction of sanitary sewers in unsewered sections of the city should be the first construction phase of any program the city adopts. Construction of stormwater sewers will relieve the city's present combined sewers to be used thereafter only as sanitary laterals.

According to Sternberg, one of the major points leading to defeat of the $10 million project five years ago was lack of provisions for stormwater drainage. The current proposal provides for such drainage in all parts of the city.

He added that sewer improvements in all parts of the city in the larger program would be more inductive to public approval of the bond issue, rather than a lesser program in which a major part of the improvements are confined to specific and separate parts of the community.

Best Teacher Shortage in Years Worst Teacher Shortage in Years

(Press-Record editorial analysis)

When a youngster reaches the age of five or six, his parents look forward to the day when he will report to school to begin broadening the knowledge and understanding that he has been acquiring since the first day of his life.

Virtually no experience that a child has is devoid of educational value. But formalized training is an accepted and needed part of our civilization.

It is a legal requirement in Illinois through the age of 18. And a sound education is a necessity in order to compete with other Americans—and, in the post-Sputnik space era, with other countries.

Will there continue to be a teacher behind the desk as each new crop of kindergartners and first-grade pupils report to Quad-City classrooms?

For those convinced of the vital role that education will play in the final third of the 20th century, there can be no acceptable answer other than "Yes." Precisely how this can best be assured remains to be determined.

Partly fact and partly a myth that was useful as a bargaining device, the shortage of teachers much discussed in recent years has worsened sharply in the 1966-67 year and become "Topic A" among educators throughout the nation.

72,500 U. S. Vacancies

A national analysis pinpointing more than 72,500 vacancies puts the blame primarily on military inductions, the lingering condition of school-related federal anti-poverty programs, and low teaching salaries.

Ray Page, Illinois superintendent of public instruction, estimates a shortage of 2600 teachers in this state and attributes it primarily to draft cuts, the competition of higher salaries offered by business and industry, and the need for additional teachers to implement expanded special education programs created by federal and state legislation.

A year ago, Illinois had 500 vacancies.

Job Corps Supt. Russell D. Johnson, whose district has steadily upgraded instructional salaries, views expanded federal-financed programs as the principal new element this fall.

Project Life-Off pre-school, remedial, counseling and day-care services have siphoned away many Granite City faculty members.

No faculty shortages have been reported by the Madison and Venice school systems.

Use Retired Teachers

The Granite City community unit school is functioning partly with the aid of retired teachers who are permitted to teach up to 75 days in a school year. Replacements currently are being sought for those who will have to end their service in November.

Viewed strictly from a local standpoint, the shortage has not yet become alarming. To some extent this is attributed to the fact that salary levels exceed those in effect in many midwestern school districts.

But the shortage is real, and not even the use of retired substitute teachers has provided sufficient relief in some communities.

Preliminary figures from a survey taken among school administrators this fall show that 2298 teachers are needed to meet the current demands of Illinois basic schools, Super Fund reports. Cooperating with his office were the state administrator and school board associations.

The figure includes the reports of 928 school districts, or 68.7% of the grand total of 1347 districts in Illinois.

Of the 2298 positions, 1820 were listed as vacant and 678 as being filled on a temporary basis.

Downstate tabulations indicated 1902 positions vacant and 477 filled temporarily. Chicago totals were 618 vacancies and 291 temporary teachers.

A breakdown of the 2298 shows 59 administrative positions, 64 supervisory, 385 special education, 1042 elementary, 119 high school and 629 high school posts.

These districts represent about 90% of the public school classrooms in the state. It is estimated that another 300 teachers are needed in the districts not yet reporting.

Recruiting Intensified

Before the start of the 1966-67 school year, educators reported an Illinois shortage of 4000 to 5000. The drop is attributed to a concentrated effort by the state and local superintendents and by civic, educational and other organizations to encourage persons holding teaching credentials to re-enter the field.

The survey revealed that the greatest number of shortages involves elementary schools at the first and second grade levels.

Next in demand are secondary school teachers of English, guidance, library, mathematics, ics, industrial arts and girls' physical education.

Also badly needed are special education teachers, speech, career/counselors, social workers and school psychologists.

Some counties report the supply of teachers, including those previously recruited, has been completely exhausted.

Along with the draft and business competition, the Illinois survey cites implementation of the 1965 U. S. Elementary and Secondary Education Act and the impact of special education legislation.

The report relates that "the direct implications of the selective service system have caused critical shortages, especially when the wife of the draftee has also been lost to the school system."

More Done Graduate Study

"Students who have remained in graduate school have contributed to the inadequate supply of teachers. Higher salaries offered by business and industry, plus the proliferation of mathematics-oriented teachers, are contributing to the shortage."

Nationally, colleges each year turn out 200,000 graduates qualified for teaching, of whom 150,000 take school jobs. Not less from teachers retiring or quitting is 100,000 a year. But pupil enrollment is rising a million each year, and the other factors cited are taking a toll.

For many of the 44 million grade and high school students reporting this fall, there was no teacher behind the desk.

Typical of the special problems faced by small districts was that of the isolated mountain community, the logging community of Somerset, Bar. There were 30 children and a two-room school building, but no teachers.

And another example of the small settlement were not optimistic about finding any.

New York state has listed 12,000 teaching vacancies. California, 10,000, Michigan 5,000, Ohio 2,000, Missouri 1,000, Georgia 1,400, Wisconsin 1,100, Kentucky 1,000, Maine 300 and Connecticut 200.

The most serious shortages in 20 years are reported in Oklahoma and Kentucky.

Job Corps Corps

U. S. Job Corps and Peace Corps programs have been cited as luring away many teachers.

The three largest school districts, New York City, Chicago and Los Angeles, have launched recruitment recruiting drives. Available is hiring teachers available for as little as one hour a day. Librarians and counselors are being utilized.

One approach under study is to seek out persons with liberal arts degrees and persuade them to become qualified teachers.

Chicago is considering allowing college seniors to teach without full teaching certificates for a period. Maine has authorized licenses for persons with only two years of college, and Kentucky has lifted the teaching requirements.

Many teachers accepted positions and then were lured to other states before reporting for work.

The U. S. Office of Education estimates that a total of 1,000,000 are employed as teachers now hold non-teaching jobs.

With many of those born during the post-war boom, the baby boom now producing children who will reach school age beginning in 1970, an even greater need for teachers looms ahead.

Hopefully, draft calls may be smaller than in the past.

Utilization of Teachers

But the trend toward a greater demand for teachers seems almost certain to have a continuing impact on salaries and on efforts to use instructors more efficiently, such as through use of closed-circuit television and instructional programming.

Year-around schooling undoubtedly will get more attention.

And the effect on the teacher supply observed in 1966-67 is certain to be considered when planning for the fall of 1967.

Further expansion of federally-financed educational programs.

The serious question that has arisen is whether the federal government should concentrate on broadening the peripheral services performed by schools, as it has done this year, or whether it should instead help schools deal with their internal responsibilities.

He is charged with theft of a large quantity of liquor from Madison Garrett's tavern, Douglas and Weaver streets, St. Louis. Other defendants already bound over are Predester Aaron, 42, of 46 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, and Vernon Adams, 32, of 202 Jefferson street, West Madison.

Granite City, Madison County Population

Catching Up With Alton, St. Clair County

Greatest numerical population growth in the Illinois Metropolitan Area has occurred in Granite City, U. S. Department of Health projections show. The increase is estimated at slightly over 4000 people, raising 1960 census figure of 40,073 to 44,100 as of 1965.

The analysis of population trends indicates not only that Granite City is catching up with Alton as a municipality—Granite City schools already have surpassed the Alton system in size—but that Madison county is rapidly drawing closer to St. Clair county in the number of residents.

With an estimated gain of 6.5% or over 17,000 in 1960-65, compared to 1% or about 3000 in 1950-55, Granite City is now the largest city in Madison county. The Census Bureau this summer placed the county's population total at 239,000 or 16,000 less than St. Clair.

Both federal agencies concede that their calculations are not exact, but both do take into account many specific changes, including deaths, emigration, voter registration, utility installations and development of new subdivisions. Based on their studies, Madison county is destined to be the biggest county in this area and Granite City has a good chance to become the largest city in Madison county.

Supply of Health Personnel

Reaching Critical Stage

Gov. Kerner is right in urging Illinois schools and organizations to help overcome the critical shortage of qualified health personnel. Special training programs, including classes held in the Quad-City area, will turn out 25,000 new health workers in the U. S. this year, but the national health work force will need to grow by a million in the next decade to meet demand.

In discussing Community Health Week, the governor says there is a serious threat to "the maintenance of our health facilities and the health care standards of our citizens" and calls for an intensive recruitment program.

Although hospital and health staff shortages are not as bad now as it is predicted they may become, the shortage is becoming more acute.

Regional Planning Coordination Viewed as Key to Orderly Growth, Avoidance of Waste in Public, Private Development Expenditures

(Press-Record editorial analysis)

(Last of three articles)

Viewed from the air, the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan area is a single entity—a two-million-plus population center that has as its heart St. Louis, the "greatest show on earth" and the "gateway to the westward development beginning two centuries ago."

It is a region separated visually only by the Mississippi River. But on the ground, other barriers—mainly governmental in nature—are clearly visible.

On the theory that orderly development is in jeopardy, the traditional "old-line" division of government has been given a new dimension by federal legislation mandating a regional coordination effort.

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council has had little or no power vested in it by the public or by the two states. But its 17 board memberships include the heads of key governmental agencies and organizations in St. Louis and six surrounding counties.

And by recognizing the Coordinating Council as the clearing-house for projects aided by federal funds, the council has given the council considerable regulatory power.

The necessity for orderly development to assure wise use of the large public and private expenditures for residential, industrial and commercial development in this metropolitan area is spelled out in a prospectus developed by the Coordinating Council (predecessor of the council).

Link Land Use, Transportation

The prospectus outlines a comprehensive land use and transportation planning program, for which area municipalities are providing funds on a basis of five cents per resident.

The comprehensive plan being developed will attempt to answer basic questions:

How should the area's growth take place in the years ahead? What type of transportation facilities should be developed? How will the necessary improvements be financed?

Federal recognition of the importance of such a land use and transportation plan was made become in future years, accelerated action is needed at this time. Much time is involved in acquiring nursing and related skills and in becoming familiar with the latest health technology. For those who enter the health field include steadily improving pay and working conditions, coupled with the satisfaction of being of direct service to the ill and infirm.

A Positively Negative Vote From a Campus Spectator

Amidst all the discussion over whether the SIU-SU student newspaper should be called "Aesthete" or "Spectator" we will cast a vote against both titles.

"Aesthete" links the initials of three of the dozen or more cities surrounding the bluff-area campus and is unlabeled by both the student body and faculty. As names go, it is a bit awkward and uninspiring.

"Spectator" at least is a bonafide dictionary word, but it also has geographical connotations in that a newspaper by that name was published in Edwardsville from 1819 to 1826. In the 1960s, the emphasis is on looking ahead rather than back.

And educational institutions stress in many of their programs that a student should strive to be a participant, rather than a spectator to the events around him.

If geography is to be the guideline we might suggest "Southwestern" or even "Gremelin," the latter combining letters from Granite City, Edwardsville or East St. Louis, Madison or Madison county and Collinsville.

On second thought, we'll withdraw "Gremelin." Enough gremelins have been at work already, judging by the mysterious name change, the confiscation of an entire press run and the wrangle over student control vs. administrative control.

'Cow and Lantern' Peril Still Present Today In New Forms

Ninety-five years ago, on Oct. 9, Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over a lantern and the great Chicago fire occurred. The blaze took 250 lives, destroyed 17,430 buildings and caused property losses totaling $175 million, a huge sum in terms of 1871 dollars.

Construction codes have improved and knowledge of fire prevention techniques has increased since then, but fires annually take a toll of more than 10,000 fatalities and $1 billion damage in the U. S.

Because of the severity of the Chicago fire, its anniversary date now serves as the focus of national fire safety activities.

In Illinois, the state where the conflagration took place, and in the Quad-Cities, where tragic fires continue to occur, the attention should be given to eliminating potential causes—including improper electrical and heating facilities, unsafe smoking habits and accumulations of such unneeded combustibles as papers, discarded clothing and old paint cans. In each case, every member of the family should become familiar with all possible escape routes. Small children should never be left alone at home.

Year-around safety practices and vigilance are the only way to reduce the number of fires. Work and expense are required. But because preservation of property and lives is at stake, fire prevention is well worth the effort.

Up-to-Date Information

Continuing, in that data is to be collected on a continuing basis and kept current as development progresses and as the state changes and grows. New information will be collected and plans revised to assure that they are in keeping with the latest trends in traffic and development.

Comprehensive, in that the program will take into consideration all the factors that influence transportation and planning, including:

1. Economic factors.
2. Population statistics.
3. Land use.
4. Transportation facilities.
5. Travel.
6. Terminal and transportation facilities.
7. Operation of the transportation system.
8. Zoning ordinances, subdivision regulations, building codes, etc.
9. Financial resources.
10. Social and community values.

Cooperative, in that it calls for the participation of all local and state jurisdictions in the development of plans.

Study All Alternatives

Latest methods of analysis are to be used in carrying out the program. A vast amount of detailed information will be collected and studied to provide the basis for the development and evaluation of various alternative plans.

Key issues are to be thoroughly explored by policymakers and the public and the models have been developed for testing, plans will be formed and tested from a land use and transportation point of view.

Priorities, Financing

These tests will take into consideration various social, economic, and population density, modifications in the existing freeway system, and different kinds of mass transit.

After the tests are made and general agreement has been obtained on a plan, a program for implementing the improvements will be developed. It will go into priorities and financing.

Initially located in the Clayton area, the Coordinating Council is now in Room 214 at 234 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis.

water, rail and air facilities in order to provide for the efficient movement of goods and people.

Another major difference cited is the extent to which the policy structure provides for direct participation of citizens and public officials in the planning process.

Alternative plans are to be considered, tested and evaluated not only from a technical point of view but also from one of public policy, enabling the policymakers to understand each possible course of action and its implications.

Beginning with data collection, the land use and transportation program will move into a policy review of the development goals and concepts which the people of the region find most desirable. The review will be done largely through the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, which will endeavor to obtain agreement on broad objectives for the two-state metropolitan area.

As the area goals and alternative concepts are being considered, various technical studies dealing with economic and population factors, land use, highway facilities, and transit and terminal facilities are to be carried out—in many cases by the Coordinating Council's Technical Committee.

Computer techniques or "models" with which to test and evaluate possible land use and transportation plans will be developed.

News From The Quad-Cities Of The

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

OCTOBER 6, 1916

Granite City people were excited yesterday morning over what many thought to be an earthquake shock and others thought was an explosion of the cartridge plants at East Alton.

First reports which came in gave out that the East Alton mills had blown up and that many had perished. As several workmen from Granite City are employed there, much uneasiness was felt by their families until the truth was learned.

The explosion was that of two cars of dynamite at Grafton, 15 miles above Alton.

The dancing season for Granite City and vicinity has opened with a rush, starting with the big opening dance of the season given by the Granite City Lodge No. 11 of the Tin Workers.

Eight organizations have made arrangements for a series of other entertainments which will be given in the near future.

The dance given by No. 11 will be at the Assembly Hall, 18th and State streets.

City Auto Sticker Sales To be Checked with Tax Books

A move to guarantee that city auto wheel tax stickers are purchased by all Granite City auto owners through comparison of assessment lists to the current list of wheel tax buyers was initiated Monday night by the Granite City council, in its capacity as the town board.

The action was taken on a motion by Alderman Fry that the township assessor be instructed to furnish the city clerk's office with a list of all automobile owners contained in township property assessment records.

Under the board's proposal, the list then would be checked by the city clerk to determine those car owners shown on the assessment list, but not shown on city records as having purchased a 1966 wheel tax sticker.

Fry's motion provided that once the check had been made, the list of car owners shown to have no wheel tax sticker will be turned over to the police department for action. This year's sales of stickers total 13,072, compared to 12,778 last year.

Twp. Audit Resolution
A resolution requiring an audit of township funds and instructing Chief Supervisor Nelson Hagauer to negotiate an auditing contract with Ralph E. Curry of St. Louis and J. B. Huggins of Belleville was approved by the aldermen, acting as town board members. Alderman Bartosiak passed and did not vote on the resolution.

The board also approved bills of $1788 out of the town fund after a separation of a $200 bill for expenses of Town Assessor James Barton. Alderman Robertson challenged the separation of Barton's claim from the regular bill, claiming the board had no authority to separate the bills.

Robertson also demanded a second to the separation request, but was told that separation of a bill required only a request by a board member and did not need a second. Approval of all bills except the $200 claim was voted. The $200 allowance was granted by the council in lieu of a pay increase. Robertson made a motion and you saw a chance to hold up the bill. I think some of you guys ought to give up on this."

Bills paid out of the town fund included $187 salary and $50 travel expenses for Hagauer and $320 salary for Barton. Salaries totaling $615 for three clerks and a janitress also were approved, and as was a $130 monthly salary for William Schooley, town attorney.

Bartosiak Objects
Alderman Bartosiak described nonpayment of the bill as a "rotten piece of business."

He said that "this man (Barton) has been allowed this claim right along."

and you saw a chance to hold up the bill. I think some of you guys ought to give up on this."

for clients amounted to $550, hospitalization $554, food orders $291 and ambulance service $15. A report by Hagauer showed a balance of $113,084 in the general assistance fund as Oct. 1. Balance of the town fund on the same date was $9634, and the municipal retirement fund, $1521.

Two Fire Alarms Monday
Firemen responded to two alarms Monday, including one at 8:10 p.m. at 22nd street and Cleveland blvd., where an oil pot flare was knocked over, and one at the home of Mrs. Bert Nyboer, 1508 Cottage avenue, where a flare on the incinerator in the utility room became overheated. No damage was reported.

BB Gun Breaks Windows
Harold Guin, 2435 Madison avenue, reported Monday that four windows of his house and garage were broken by vandals, who apparently used an air rifle.

Upperclassmen Push ISU Enrollment Up

An increasing retention rate for upper level students has been the major factor in Illinois State University's enrollment hitting an official 9699 for the fall semester, an increase of 12% over the 8643 enrolled a year ago.

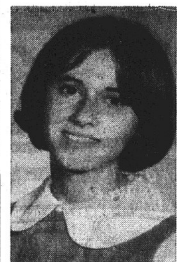

The 18% increase is despite the fact that ISU curtailed enrollment of new students in March because of the large numbers wanting to come to Illinois State. However, the growth has come, not in new freshmen, but in increased retention rates, a factor almost impossible to project accurately, and the number of transfers from other colleges and universities as being the main factors in the enrollment surge. University officials had projected 9400 students for this fall.

SIU Researchers Seek Information on Bats

Wildlife researchers at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale have started an investigation into the habits and habitats of bats.

More specifically, they're interested in the bats that fly through the night skies of southern Illinois, because as many as 12 different species of them are found in the area.

What the researchers want to know first of all is where the bats are at.

Willard Klimstra, director of the SIU Cooperative Wildlife Research Laboratory, has said that

Eastern Offers Summer Study Plan in Mexico

Eastern Illinois University is hoping to continue to offer an opportunity for summer study in Mexico after the successful experience of eight students there this summer.

This summer was the first time that Eastern, in cooperation with Monterrey Tec, Monterrey, Mexico, offered the study program. Eastern is the only university in Illinois offering the program.

Methodist Youth Day Set at Wesleyan U.

Methodist Youth Day at Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, on Oct. 22, is expected to draw 3000 youths of high school age and their church leaders.

Nearly 1600 group reservation cards for the ninth annual Methodist Youth Day were mailed this week to ministers and church youth leaders of the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren churches throughout Illinois. The two denominations are discussing a merger.

The program begins at 9 a.m. with tours of campus buildings. At 11:15 a.m. a convocation featuring school officials and student leaders will be held in Fred Young fieldhouse followed by lunch at Wesleyan stadium at noon.

A pep rally will be staged in the stadium at 11 a.m. and the visitors will remain for the football game between Wesleyan's Titans and Wheaton College, starting at 1:30.

Reservation cards must be returned by Oct. 15. Any Methodist or EUB youth who has not been informed of the details of Methodist Youth Day and who is interested in attending, should contact his church minister or youth leader.

43% of Classes Meet After 5 p.m. at SIU-SW

Forty-three per cent of the classes at the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus meet after 5 p.m., President Deyle W. Morris reported this week.

"This enables residents of the populous Madison-St. Clair counties area to work full-time during a regular work week and as commuters to pursue degree-earning studies through, regular university attendance."

Classrooms and laboratories at both SIU campuses operate on a six-day, 61-hour week and "we like it that way," Morris said.

Classes start as early as 7 a.m. and some finish as late as 10 p.m., plus four hours scheduling on Saturday morning—gives a degree of flexibility to students and faculty alike, Morris said.

"It avoids a grade school type of regimentation in which class follows class, broken only by recess and lunch periods. It helps meet some of the problems created by bigness."

At the Carbondale campus, 10% of the class hours are scheduled after 5 p.m. and every student is expected to take either Saturday morning or evening classes as part of his schedule, he said.

2 Fawns Favorites at SIU Carbondale 'Zoo'

Two baby deer that have survived painful run-ins with civilization are sentimental attractions at a new zoo at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale campus.

The fawns, "Scamper" and "Bambi," are part of a family of whitetails now in residence at a children's menagerie established at SIU's Little Grass Lake camp site. Scamper, barely a month old, is one of three deer donated by Giant City State Park. Her mother died during the transition and the fawn suffered a leg injury in the move. Her father and a sister are doing well.

Bambi, three months old, is already a public figure after a near-fatal encounter with a mowing machine at Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge where an SIU student working on the refuge at the time, nursed the fawn back to health after a 40-stitch operation to sew up the wound in its side.

All of the zoo occupants, which include four tame mallard ducks, a pair of Muscovy ducks and a peacock, live in a fenced enclosure not far from the horse stables at the SIU Camp. Scamper has his own pen behind the home of James Lipe, SIU buildings and grounds supervisor, where Lipe's wife and three children take turns feeding him from a baby bottle. The feedings are supplemented with penicillin to combat the leg injury.

495 Students Enroll At McKendree College

Fall term classes began at McKendree College, Lebanon, with an enrollment of 495 students, according to an announcement by President Edwin E. Voigt. Enrollment figures include 165 freshmen, 112 sophomores, 98 juniors and 102 seniors. In addition, 72 enrolled in the evening school. The students come from 14 states and 4 foreign countries, including France, Iraq, Iran and Japan.

Coinciding with the beginning of classes, the college opened a new residence hall for women and a campus social and recreational center. Construction is scheduled to begin soon on two men's residences and a dining hall to seat 520 students.

Aviation School at SIU Holds Open House

Southern Illinois University's two-year aviation technology school was opened to the public during open house at the southern Illinois Airport Sunday at Carbondale.

One of only eight university-connected aviation technical schools in the nation, the program is located in its own 240 x 180-foot building at the airport north of route 13 between Carbondale and Murphysboro.

It is the newest of 27 programs in SIU's Vocational-Technical Institute and opened last year with 20 students. Enrollment this fall is 95.

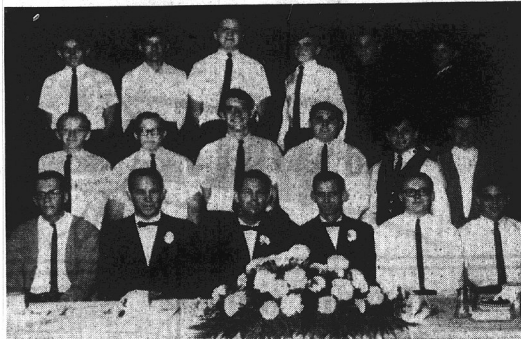

Students are trained as aviation maintenance personnel for airlines, general aviation, repair station and corporate aircraft. Graduates receive the associate in technology degree from SIU and are prepared for the Federal Aviation Agency airframe and power plant license.

SIU Foundation Making Good Use of Gifts Here

"What good is culture in a closet? You have to let it out so you can enjoy it with others."

This was Max Risch Jr., Webster Groves, Mo., speaking last year when, through the Southern Illinois University Foundation, he gave some 350 compositions for chamber wind ensembles and 65 orchestral scores for use at the university's Southwest campus.

The not-for-profit SIU foundation was chartered in Carbondale in 1962 when, as a state participation in organized activity in the League.

Cartography Stereotype

Demos Nicholas of Madison donated a highly refined stereotype which students in cartography classes are using to interpret aerial maps and photographs. It is a modern version of the viewer our grandparents used for looking at pictures of Niagara Falls in 3-D black.

An equipment gift from the Shell Oil Company is being used in industrial courses offered by SIU-SW's technical and adult education program. It is a scale model of package lubricant warehouse facilities at Shell's Wood River installation, showing in detail the plant layout and material handling equipment.

The Elijah P. Lovejoy library has received a number of gift collections, including 136 volumes of chemical journals from Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp.; a 125 volume medical historical collection donated by St. Mary's Hospital of East St. Louis; and a large collection of pre-Civil War Illinois Sessions laws, a gift of Chester Evans, Hillsboro attorney. It also boasts 3000 volumes in the area of fine arts, history, literature, cuisine, travel and architecture from Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Volentine of Taylorville.

Other collections include 300 volumes of economics from Mrs. Truman Post Young of Eureka, Mo.; a Slavic and East European library consisting of 1000 volumes, bound volumes of newspapers, and county histories and atlases donated by different agencies.

A collection of sculpture, valuable paintings and ceramics has also been secured.

Outlet is provided by the foundation for receiving and sharing any monetary contribution. Gifts as small as $5 have been accepted for its memorial and living tribute fund. Money contributed is used "to encourage and provide help to deserving college students to perpetuate in a living way the high principles and values of the deceased friend or of the individual receiving recognition or honors for unusual service."

Anyone having something stored in a "closet" which could be put to good use by the SIU Foundation may call Schweitzer at 1-692-2211.

Donors Named

Results of the foundation's efforts on this campus include receipt from Say-Mart stores of $500 interest-free scholarship loans provided to help finance the education of two college students each year. Established as a community service project by Say-Mart, the loans do not become due until one year from the day the scholarship holders receive their degrees. Selection is made by the Scholarships and Loan committee at the new campus and is administered by the SIU foundation.

J. B. Longenecker of Granite City has contributed $3000 for a general loan fund to help Granite City high school graduates who wish to continue their higher education at the campus.

Last year Home Nursery Greenhouses Inc. gave an unrestricted gift of $1000 to the foundation. Unrestricted scholarship grants are put in the foundation scholarship endowment fund to pool grants for investment purposes.

In October 1964, St. Joseph League of Cahokia made its first annual $200 award, based on scholastic ability, need, community service, character, and

Morris Explains Restrictions on Housing, Vehicles

"You may have heard complaints that they are taking away our trailers, our apartments, and our motorcycles at Southern Illinois University."

So says a letter from University President Delyne W. Morris to the parents of undergraduates students living away from home. In it he explains the reasons why the university must have regulations which protect an academic community and encourage its pursuit of learning.

The letter explains that the university is responsible for "wisely expending more than $80 million this year in order that 25,000 young men and women can further their educations."

"There seems to be a mistaken idea that the only accepted living centers which provide the safety, sanitation and supervision required for all undergraduates living away from home are the luxury-type dormitories which have sprung up in the Carbondale area, some of which charge luxury prices," Morris said.

"This is not the case. Many private residences and small residence halls offering facilities to students are on the accepted list, charge lower rentals, and have vacancies listed with the housing section of the student affairs office." A nickel-a-ride bus service links these accepted living centers to the campus.

Turning to the problem of motorcycles, Morris said: "At first the motorcycle seemed to be merely an extension of the bicycle, traditional method of transportation for students. Then the sound of ambulance sirens was heard with disquieting frequency. There were injuries and death."

"There was another jarring note in the sound of cycle exhausts. Ownership of such vehicles seemed to engender a certain irresponsibility among some students which sent them roaring off through the night, forgetting the stake you as parents and taxpayers had invested in their education."

President Morris said it was a "logical decision" by the board of trustees to include motorcycles in the regulations restricting student use of motor vehicles and that the decision was communicated to all students well in advance of the fall quarter.

Assuring parents that the housing office would assist any student who had accepted housing within the family budget," Morris said.

There is no reason for any student now enrolled to feel insecure if his primary reason for attending the university is to obtain an education."

OOMP!—Goalie Eric Stueber stopped this play by Robert Galvan in a match held recently to dedicate the new YMCA soccer field at St. Elizabeth's church and school.

Soccer Takes Them All—The Long, Short And Tall

To over 400 hard-muscled local youngsters who are adept at play.

Started 5 Years Ago
The man not necessarily always behind the ball, but always on the sidelines, Ruben Mendoza, who is credited with starting the YMCA soccer program five years ago with a nucleus of five teams, is hoping that soccer will be expanded to include a high school program.

Mendoza said soccer takes in youth who are too light for football and too short for basketball. He added that the highest paid athlete in the world is a Brazilian soccer player known as "Pele" who is five-foot-eight inches tall and weighs 148 pounds.

"Pele" is paid $150,000 a year in the international pro-leagues, and has been offered one million dollars by the Italians to transfer to their team," he said.

Former Olympic Star

Mendoza, himself a former U. S. Olympic soccer star, said that soccer is a sport of stamina, strength and coordination to a point never obtained in any other form of athletics.

"Many high schools in the area have, or are planning to begin soccer programs in the near future," Mendoza said. Assumption high school in East St. Louis and Western Military Academy in Alton have soccer teams, he pointed out, adding that Belleville, Cahokia, Collinsville and O'Fallon high schools are planning to initiate programs within a year or two.

"The most attractive thing about high school soccer, besides the physical development for youth, is the low cost of maintaining a team," Mendoza said. He estimated $300 dollars would cover one season's operational costs, including equipment, referees and balls.

He related that the biggest problem most high schools have in starting a soccer program is finding people with an adequate knowledge of the game to be coaches.

College Interest Growing

Several colleges and universities now have soccer programs, and will undoubtedly offer soccer scholarships in the near future. "An added incentive for young men to consider soccer is the forming of two professional soccer leagues in this country," Mendoza said. One league, the National Soccer League, will begin functioning officially in April of next year, the other, the North American Soccer League, is scheduled to start in 1968, he told. "Our soccer program has expanded—we now have 24 teams, and we recently dedicated a new field next to the St. Elizabeth's school on Pontoon road," Mendoza said.

2 Eighth Grade Grid Games for Braves, Chiefs

The 1970 edition of the Fighting Warriors should benefit from the encouragement being given eighth grade griders at Prather and Coolidge junior high schools, in the opinion of athletic director Dick Yates.

Yates announced this week that permission has been obtained for two eighth grade games between Prather and Coolidge Oct. 21 and 28.

"Our idea is that the competition provide a stimulus for more boys going out for football," said Yates in characterizing the contests as closely supervised clinic-type games.

Yates, who will be one of the referees in each game, said Granite City high school football coach Jim Morrison and his assistants will help supervise.

"We'll make sure the teams are evenly matched," said Yates in explaining that this is the first year Prather has had enough eighth grade players to the Oct. 28 game will be at 2:30 make the series practical. Every p.m. at Prather.

Programs Set for Hospitalized Children

Starting Tuesday afternoon, the Granite City park district will initiate for the third consecutive year, a weekly program of handicraft and entertainment for young patients confined at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Miss Doris Shane, a Granite City high school senior, will conduct the program each Tuesday afternoon, in the fourth floor solarium. Harold Brown, park superintendent, said today, he added that any child able to walk or be taken to the solarium area may participate in the weekly activity.

Brown also announced that starting Thursday, Nov. 3, the park district will provide movies for the young patients in the pediatric department. Arrangements for the movie presentations will be handled by Pat Harris, an SIU student and park district staff member, who will show the films on alternate Thursdays.

He took basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. After nine weeks of basic administration and chaplain's assistant school, he arrived at Fort Ord, Calif., he received a letter from his commanding officer congratulating him on being second highest in the class of 48 and a merit graduate.

Thomas attended St. Mary's grade school and graduated from Madison high school. Before leaving to reserve, he was attending SIU at Alton part-time while employed at the Robert L. Wolf and Associates Co. in Granite City.

A native of St. Louis, Mr. Janssen lived here for the past five years. Prior to retirement, he had been employed for several years in the shipping department at the local Army installation. He was a veteran of world war I and a member of Tri-City American Legion Post 113 and Veterans of World War I Barracks 34.

GC Park District Expansion Poses Perplexing Problems

Continuing growth, purchase of additional park property and the growing responsibilities connected with expansion are keeping Granite City park board commissioners busy. Any number of projects now under way, and others being planned illustrate the complexity of what many believe is one of the most ambitious and successful parks systems in the country. Foremost in new planning is a study of annexation to include all areas of Granite City in the park district. This, it is felt, will bring in additional people who want to use park facilities but who are now unable to exercise a direction in park matters. "Basically we want to bring the park district into co-extension with the city limits," Randall Robertson, district attorney, points out. Expansion is widespread. This plan is not primarily focused on Wilson Park itself, since the park district continues to expand in all directions. Not only have expansion plans for areas such as new Worthen Park dominated much of the commissioners' concern, but additional property will soon be purchased as the system expands. Lengthy negotiations with several heirs involved in the purchase of land for a new park in the West Granite area are reaching the final stage. Commissioners have given their approval for a 60-day option while final details are ironed out. A comprehensive report on this new land procurement must be filed with the federal government since federal aid is involved in such expansion projects.

While contemplating the arrival of problems unforeseen in new park areas of the city, the board faces others with existing properties. An example, Worthen Park. Property owners in the neighborhood of this park have complained of dirt washing down from the banks along the paved road of proposed new Maryville road. The park land, lying east from the new Maryville road, is 1175 feet deep. A 15-foot right-of-way was granted and it is largely from this road property that erosion is developing. Park responsibility begins 30 feet from the center of the street, 15 feet of which is pavement and 15 feet of which is right-of-way. A study has started to determine the precise measurements of the property involved and whether the district has responsibility for any erosion that exists in its area. This, and other problems forces park district commissioners to evidence an awareness that many of the park's problems hinge on those of the school district and the city.

Tri-Agency Talks A major item discussed at last week's meeting centered on reopening tri-agency talks between the park, school and city. One example of liaison between the school and the park, though seemingly minor, is seen at Parkview School. The school district has black-topped an area in the rear of the building. Commissioners approved the erection of basketball goals here. An example of liaison between the city and the commissioners is seen in the plans for completion of the Civic Park in downtown Granite. Commissioners approved plans for the paving of the walkways and the erection of the ornamental eagle that topped the old post office. Other memoranda, such as the original construction of the building, are being considered for use as part of the park's complete design.

Community Improvement The park district's complete immersion in the affairs of the community are illustrated constantly. One still relatively minor example was the commissioner's approval for use of the park district office as a county polling place.

Often park responsibility and what people only think of as the responsibility of the park, takes on humorous notes. In one instance, even "squirrelly" notes. A few isolated complaints have been heard concerning squirrels roaming from their natural habitat in Wilson Park. "We didn't bring squirrels in here," one commissioner explained. "Anytime we can't tell them to stay on park property."

Solution? A volunteer from the neighborhood has asked to trap squirrels and transplant them to that community. The commissioners granted permission.

Ice Risk Problems Other problems are less easily resolved. And perhaps the largest of all currently, is the ice rink and recreation area, temporarily stalemated again because of a disagreement to the proposed route of the building's sanitary sewer. As originally planned, the sanitary sewer would have crossed Fehling road and connected to the existing line in the alley between Yale drive and Oregon street. This is a new sewer line and more adequate for handling the expected drainage of the new project.

However, unknown to the architects, a 12-inch water main in the center of Fehling road rested directly in the path of the proposed sanitary sewer. The utility agreed to move the main at the park's expense - estimated at $700.

Share the Cost But since the park district and the water company previously cooperated on a 30-50 cost share basis relocation of another existing water line, another such arrangement is being explored. Alternative to this route would be a connection within the park at the manhole near the swimming pool at an estimated cost of $400.

This second alternative is under serious study, too. For one thing, some doubt exists as to the efficiency of this older line, should paving and guttering be added to the driveways around the new facility.

The question of a confluence of storm and sewer drainage in existing facilities also needs to be explored, it is felt.

Other Risk Notes Moreover, a line running from the park office to the second junction facility, being studied, makes a sharp 90 degree angle without a manhole at this turn. This does not insure that future obstruction couldn't become a problem. A cleanout manhole at this turn could cost another $350.

On the risk itself, the commissioners were assured by project architect Henry Gabriel that construction is moving along satisfactorily.

The storm sewer from the warming house manhole to the manhole on Fehling road has been installed. The footing for the warming house are 95% complete and the contractor is now forming for the pouring of the foundation walls of the warming house. The contractor has excavated for the rink column footings and has obtained reinforcing steel for matts.

The actual pouring of the rink slab even came under discussion. It is felt that because of weather this cannot be completed until spring. An enormous job in itself, the pouring must be completed in one operation. As many as 36 finishers might be called in to complete the job in one operation. To postpone all other area concrete work for the one day operation would haul the concrete to the site.

Progress Report Better coordination between commissioners and project architects and contractors was behind a move to have Gabriel issue a weekly progress report to each board member.

Also, park board president Paul Schuler was designated as contracting officer, his duty to sign change orders and other instruments during the project.

Four change orders have been drawn up so far. One, detailed the expenditure for 232 feet of three-inch pipe, an installation necessary for the relocation of the old water main under the site. The utility shared $550 in this, with the park's cost $1138. Another change order was for a larger "Y" junction on the storm sewer connection. A third change order was for added expense and concrete when a tree stump obstructing a column footing suddenly became uncovered. The fourth is pending in lieu of the sanitary sewer problem.

One other change was necessitated when the usual path for children attending Niedringhaus school was disrupted by the new project. A gravel walkway was made around the construction site for children from the Youree's Colonial Subdivision and Lueder's Park Estates. To keep abreast with activities, the commissioners plan to make a trip to the National Parks convention in Washington, D. C., on Oct. 10 to the State Park convention Oct. 25-28.

Work Begun on New Methodist Facility

The Methodist Home at Lawrenceville began this week construction of its new $1.2 million Wesley Center, a one-story masonry and steel retirement home spread over more than two acres.

Dr. Ernest Dycus, administrator and former Granite City pastor, said he has authorized the Wesley Center Construction Co. of Florida to proceed with the work. Associated Planners, Inc., of Chicago, is the architect.

Dr. Dycus said the building, another phase in the institution's five-year development, will cost an estimated $1 million with $200,000 allotted for furnishings and equipment.

The Methodist Home at Lawrenceville is supported through the Southern Illinois Conference of the Methodist Church. The administrator said it is increased space in the modern extension to the 40-year-old facility in Lawrenceville will more than match in accommodations and service to residents any retirement facility in southern Illinois.

He said the new structure will increase resident capacity to 225 and increase the annual operating budget from $300,000 to $500,000. Completion of the Wesley Center will bring assets of the Lawrenceville facility to $3.2 million, the administrator said.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Council Blocks Appointment of Assistant Atty.

Appointment by Mayor Partney of the law firm of Morris Chapman to serve in the role assistant city attorney of Granite City was blocked by the city council Monday night after lengthy debate in which council members challenged legality of naming a firm, rather than an individual, to the attorney's post.

Several council members also disputed the appointment of an attorney who lives outside the city, an issue that involved half an hour's discussion over a legal opinion by City Attorney Richard Allen and what should be done with the letter stating the opinion. After long debate the council rejected a motion to make Allen's opinion part of the minutes and then voted to receive the opinion and file it.

The opinion was requested in council session a week ago when Mayor Partney advanced the appointment of the Chapman law firm to fill the position left vacant recently by the resignation of Leo Kozan as assistant city attorney. Allen was asked to rule on the legality of naming an attorney who lives outside the city. Chapman maintains law offices here but lives near Edwardsville.

Allen Submits Opinion
Allen informed the council in his letter read Monday night that the city has two ordinances, one that specifies the difference between city officers and city employees, and states that city employees must be residents of Granite City. A section of that ordinance states its terms do not apply to city officers.

The other ordinance creates the office of assistant city attorney, fixes the salary and bond and outlines his duties. Allen said this ordinance makes it clear that the assistant city attorney is a city officer.

Therefore, he ruled, the assistant city attorney is an officer of the city and is not bound by the resident requirement applicable to employees.

The debate began as the council session opened and Alderman Robertson moved for a correction of the minutes of last week's meeting, which referred to the appointment was made of the "firm of Morris Chapman" and not "Chapman" as an individual.

Minutes Corrected
The correction was approved, but this brought up the question of legality of appointing a firm rather than an individual as a city officer.

Mayor Partney called for a legal opinion on the question and then requested deferral of the appointment.

Mayor Partney pointed out the issue was deferred in last week's meeting and had to be settled in Monday night's session. Bartosiak appealed to Allen for a ruling on his request and Allen said the council already had one deferral and action was necessary.

On a roll call vote, the council rejected the mayor's appointment of the Chapman firm seven against and six for, with Alderman Bartosiak, Johnson, Boyd, Dallas, Parmley, Robertson and Paulos voting no.

Did Him a Favor
As the vote was completed, the mayor remarked:

"You've just done this man a favor. He didn't want the job, anyway."

Alderman Fry and Whitmer repeated the request for a legal

Beneficial Aid by Association for Retarded

Wholehearted support and assistance in all areas of service to the mentally handicapped child or adult is the primary purpose of the Granite City Association for Retarded, Inc., an agency of the Tri-Cities United Fund.

The organization, now incorporated as a non-profit group, recently changed its name from the Granite City Association for Aid to the Retarded Children.

Koen interest in the latest and most effective programs to aid the handicapped is constantly renewed and updated with the appearance of qualified speakers at meetings and continuous contact with educators, experienced in fields involving the training of exceptional children.

Inter-Agency Cooperation

Although it asks for and receives an annual allocation of only $200, the association carries on an expansive program of activities through cooperation with the Quad-City organizations such as the YMCA, the local Boy Scout office which provides Scouts to assist with young Cub Scouts, sponsored by the association, and the Granite City park district, whose facilities lend to the development of many programs.

Eugene Tondre, association president, pointed out that day camps, other special events of activities are among the numerous projects supported by the group. Saturday morning, several group activities are held at St. John United Church of Christ, the same location for the association's annual Christmas party for area handicapped youngsters and the place of monthly business meetings and programs.

Day Camp at Park

In a two-week summer day camp program, handicapped children participate in group sessions held in Wilson Park, where trained supervisory personnel, together with volunteers, offer the youngsters art, music, handicraft, outdoor meals, games and bus excursions to the St. Louis Zoo and Grant's Farm.

The lack of teachers specifically trained in the area of instructing the mentally retarded is of special concern to the local association.

To help introduce prospective teachers into this phase of education, the association provides an annual scholarship to college students. A portion of the scholarship grant is allocated from United Fund appropriation, while donations also are received from service clubs.

Sheltered Workshop
Of immediate concern to the local UF agency, is the realization of the question of appointing a firm rather than an individual to a city post. Fry remarked, "We have this question in other instances, and I think we should have the opinion."

Later in the meeting, Alderman Bartosiak revived the issue briefly when he made a motion that the personnel committee be instructed to contact Granite City attorneys "to learn who would like to have the job of assistant city attorney."

"You are way out of line,"

Mayer Partney replied.

"You mean you won't accept the motion?" Bartosiak asked.

"I do," said the mayor.

Woman Answers Door, Struck by 2 Men

Mrs. Florence Wright, 1914 Grand avenue, reported at 1:35 a.m. Tuesday that two men who had come to her home to "leave a message" struck her after she opened the door. The first knocked her down. She said the two knocked on the door and identified themselves as brothers of her son-in-law for whom the "message" was intended. Her daughter was married last Saturday night and the couple was away on a honeymoon.

When she opened the door one of them struck her, knocking her to the floor, she told police. The second man picked her up and struck her again, she added. One was described as having sandy hair and the other as being young with light brown hair and wearing a light colored sport shirt and dark trousers.

Last Month's 207 Area Crashes Injure 207, Kill 5

The Quad-Cities area was hit hard by traffic accidents during September, which rated second highest month for the year in the number of crashes and equaled the year's one-month record of five fatalities.

September statistics, compiled by the Press-Record from records maintained by local, county and state police, show 207 crashes with five deaths and 115 injuries.

The only other month of 1966 with more accidents was May with 219 crashes resulting in 135 injuries, but no fatalities. Five traffic deaths also were recorded in June this year, when there were 160 accidents with 108 injuries.

September's 115 injuries have exceeded in August with 116 in 192 accidents in which there were 109 crashes with four deaths and 117 injuries.

Nine-month totals for 1966 show gains in all three categories of the statistics compiled.

Weekend Traffic

Last month's traffic crash rate soared on several weekends when there were rainstorms. On the Sept. 16-18 weekend, 42 crashes with 27 injuries occurred; while on the Sept. 23-25 weekend, there were 33 accidents with 21 injuries and one death.

The Sept. 9-11 weekend accounted for 21 accidents with one death and 11 injuries. The other three fatalities were mid-week mishaps. In September 1965, there were 109 crashes with four deaths and 117 injuries.

Nine-month totals for 1966 show gains in all three categories of the statistics compiled.

INCREASED WHEELBASE, newly-designed 'safety' features mark the Ambassador DPL. Luxury model of American Motors, Inc., whose 1967 models went on display today at Brewer Motor Co., 2163 Madison avenue.

American Motors '67 Line Marked by Styling Change

A highly advanced lineup of 1967 cars, featuring extensive all-new safety steering packages in styling, engineering and performance was introduced today by American Motors today at deep-dish, three-spoke steering wheel.

"These new cars represent an entirely new product position," Joseph L. Brewer, operator of the firm, announced. "The new models have combined all-new styling with all-new engineering in the senior lines, with major emphasis on safety in every model."

Brewer said key features for 1967 include new contemporary styling for Ambassador, Marlin and newly-named Rambler Rebel models, all of which are longer and more spacious; four new optional high-performance engines ranging from 260 to 290 horsepower; smart rettrimming of the Rambler American which retains its compact dimensions.

Also among new features is a new four-link rear suspension system for Ambassador, Marlin and Rebel models to provide a smoother ride, added stability and greater ease of handling.

Outstanding Safety Features "Safety levels equal or exceed government specifications, making the '67 models the safest and most reliable automobiles available to the public today," Brewer said.

Forward-thrust styling with sports car flair distinguishes the American Motors 1967 Rambler Rebel series, called the Classic convertible.

In previous years. The new Rebel is longer, wider and more spacious. New V-8 power options provide lively performance to match the sporty styling. The newly designed "SST" series includes top-line Rebel hardtops and convertibles.

The most luxurious series, the 1967 Ambassador, is 202.5 inches long, compared with the former 200 inches, while the station wagon is 203 inches long. The wheelbase has been increased two inches to 118 and the new width is 78.4 inches, an increase of 3.9 inches.

The Ambassador DPL convertible features a new top mechanism which folds flush with the body line. The entire unit folds behind the rear seat instead of part of it going into side housings so that the convertible becomes a full six-passenger automobile. The same feature is offered in the Rambler Rebel SST convertible.

State Police Cars To Be Beige in Color

Illinois state police cars, now sporting twin rotating red lights, will soon take on a new color.

Supt. William H. Morris has announced that familiar black and white squad cars will be phased out in favor of a new solid beige color.

The new tint is not intended, and will not serve, to give anonymity to the police cars, Morris said. Black and white was selected years ago, thinking that the strong contrast would aid identification.

"Police cars are more readily identifiable by their silhouettes and their markings," he said. In addition to the present "State Police" lettering of reflectorized material on the rear of the cars, a new door emblem has been devised. Police cars of the new color and bearing the new insignia will appear following the first delivery of 1967 vehicles, about the first of the year.

Eighteen months to two years will be required to phase out the black and white cars now in use.

High Masonic Honor For George Malotki

"The Knight of the York Cross of Honor, the highest in the York Rite of Freemasonry, has been awarded George A. Malotki, 2241 Grand avenue, it was announced here this week.

The honorary degree is conferred only on those individuals who have held the highest office in each of the four bodies of the rite. He also has received the distinguished service medal of the Grand Chapter of Illinois.

In receiving the award, Malotki was one of about 400 of the 4,250,000 Freemasons to qualify this year. He has served as master of the Granite City Chapter, Royal Arch Masons in 1941, masters of the St. Clair Council, Royal and Select Masters in 1959 and commander of East St. Louis Commandery, Knights Templar in 1965.

NOW CARS

The NOW Cars. More than just "new" cars. The NOW Cars are designed from scratch for today's driving by today's drivers. They are cars on top of today, from a company on top of today. The 1967 American Motors, 1967 is the year we've been planning for, pointing toward. The year we bring you cars full of today's spirit, bursting with today's ideas. Cars with more room, more power, more safety; cars more exciting than any we've ever built!

Engines for Now. Three sizes that go like eight—and four V-8s that weren't here a year ago. The most modern engines in the industry, from an acceleration champ Six to the 343 cu. in. 4-bbl. Typhoon V-8.

Innovations for Now. Convertibles that are true six seaters. Wink lights visible from the side, rally lights that herald your approach.

A road-smoothing 4-link rear suspension—the first time ever with a single-unit body.

Safety for Now. Every 1967 American Motors car includes: long-awaited energy-absorbing steering column and deep-dish wheel; warning signal light to monitor both brake line systems; shoulder belt anchors; and the Double-Safety braking system we made standard five years before the rest of the industry. All built into solid, single-unit bodies.

Quality for Now. Our past is one of quality. Quality built in—like the Deep-Dip rustproofing and Ceramic-Armored exhaust systems pioneered by American Motors. And when quality is built in, the value stays in.

See your American Motors/Rambler Dealer today. He's the only Now Car dealer in town.

REBEL Now—the first Excitement Machines in the intermediate class! Cars for Now that never existed before! A 114" wheelbase. Excitement that's 197 to 197, 78" wide, 54" high. More people-space inside than any other cars their size. A choice of five engines, topped by a 343 cu. in. Typhoon V-8. A wide road stance and 4-link rear suspension to glue down corners, unwind curves. An SST convertible (above) that seats 3 in back comfortably. Rebel: SST hardtop and SST convertible: 770 hardtop, sedan, wagon; 850 sedans, wagon; 990 hardtop, sedan, wagon; 880 sedans and wagon.

AMBAADOR Now—full-size luxury cars created for today, priced for the young man who wants his luxury car right now. 118" wheelbase. Interiors now as spacious as the most expensive full-size cars.

ADPL convertible with room for 8 in the rear. Choice of 5 smooth, silent engines to command. Your choice of Ambassador: SST hardtop (above) and DPL convertible; 990 hardtop, sedan, wagon; 880 sedans and wagon.
